AUGUSTUS LOOKS WOLVERHAMPTON

WINNER IN WAITING

By Molly Hunter, Press Association

James Fanshawe's Augustus Gloop was a ready winner on his third start and can go in again in the Bet #10 Get #40 With BetMGM Handicap at Wolverhampton. The three-year-old made steady progress in novice events, with an encouraging fifth on his Kempton debut followed by a nose defeat at Lingfield and then an emphatic victory at Newcastle last time. The runner-up and hot favourite that day, Major Neigh Sayer, has since opened is account at Newmarket and competed at Listed level in France, albeit coming up short in testing conditions. With all that in mind, Augustus Gloop should be very competitive as he enters the handicap sphere with a starting rating of 82. Roserunner can strike again on the all-weather for Marco Botti in the opening Read Meg Nicholls' Blog At betmgm.co.uk Handicap. Never a factor on his introduction, the colt raised his game with a hard-fought win over a mile at Lingfield at the second time of asking. This slightly stiffer test of stamina can see him in an even better light. Sovereign Wealth has proved frustrating to follow of late, but can reward those who keep the faith in the Best Odds Guaranteed At BetMGM Novice Stakes. George Boughey's youngster has finished in the first three in six of his seven races to date, but has so far failed to get his head in front. He has filled the runner-up spot on his last three starts in handicaps, earning him a mark of 77, and if he can run up to that rating at Dunstall Park he should really be winning what looks a weak contest. At Southwell, it is Paul Midgley's Glory Fighter who can prevail in the Midnight A Next Generation Betting App Handicap, run over the minimum trip of five furlongs. A recent third-placed finish over the course and distance represented something of a return to form for a 10-year-old who has won 10 times on turf but is still awaiting his first ever win on the all-weather. Julie Camacho's Holbache gets the vote in the Create Your Bet Builders At Midnite Handicap. After a 2025 turf campaign that featured two wins, the eight-year-old returned to the all-weather to finish third at Newcastle in October and can build on that now he has been dropped 11lb in the handicap. William Knight's Seeing Stars catches the eye in the Best Odds Guaranteed At BetMGM Restricted Maiden Fillies' Stakes. The chestnut has been second in two successive Wolverhampton contests over this seven-furlong trip, missing out very narrowly each time. She looks to be knocking pretty heavily on the door and a small step forward can see her make it third time lucky.
