Holloway Boy can make class count at Pontefract

By Nick Robson, Press Association

It has been a long time between drinks for Holloway Boy but he can provide Karl Burke with yet another winner in the William Hill Pomfret Stakes at Pontefract. For a horse who won the Chesham Stakes at Royal Ascot on his racecourse debut he perhaps has not achieved as much as many thought he would. However, he rarely runs a bad race and the six-year-old arguably produced a career-best effort last time out when second to stablemate Zeus Olympus in the Group Two Summer Mile at Ascot. That venue seems to bring out the best in him it must be said, as he was also second in the Balmoral Handicap on Champions Day in 2025 and he also went close in the Jersey Stakes. Burke must also think that because in three runs since returning from Dubai and Bahrain, Holloway Boy has run exclusively at Ascot. He is right back up to his career-high mark of 114 and as long as he takes to Pontefract, should be involved in the finish. Naval Cop showed up well for five furlongs of a six-furlong trip at York last time and Andrew Balding's filly can put that experience and pace to good effect in the BYD Wakefield British EBF Stallion Studs Maiden Stakes. That race on the Knavesmire was better than anything any of her rivals have run in to date and with the 5lb sex allowance on a sharper track she can land the win at the third time of asking. Bradbury has shown flashes of temperament but has done nothing much wrong on the track, winning two handicaps at Leicester and Wetherby off a mark of 58. A 4lb rise appeared to halt that progress at Beverley when he managed only sixth to Kitsune Power but on ratings that was not the step backwards it appeared. The drop back from 10 furlongs to a mile in the Trevor Woods Memorial Handicap looks a positive one given he has tended to be coming back to the field over the longer trip and he is taken regain the winning thread. Percy's Daydream has been highly tried since running out a wide-margin winner of a Beverley handicap off a 7lb lower mark in June. In two runs since she has gone off at 25-1 and 20-1, in a Listed race at the same course and a hot handicap at Newmarket's July meeting respectively. The Pontefract And District Golf Club Ltd Handicap represents calmer waters for David O'Meara's filly. This is the time of year that Sir Mark Prescott starts to fire in the winners and with his strike-rate beginning to nudge up Asset can get off the mark in the Malcolm Prescott 80th Birthday Maiden Stakes. Tristan Davidson is another whose string are clearly in good health and Iris Dancer might defy a 2lb rise for his latest Hamilton win in the Sarah Gusterson Memorial Handicap. The consistent eight-year-old may not have a huge amount in hand but is one to be on when races go toe-to-toe and getting the better of a short-head battle last time shows he is in good heart. It would not be a Sunday in the summer without a jumps meeting and this time it takes place at Uttoxeter. Dan Skelton's Ice Jet went up 25lb in rattling up a quickfire hat-trick in handicap hurdles in May before posting a promising first effort over fences, narrowly going down at this venue earlier this month. The champion trainer clearly feels there is juice in the four-year-old's handicap mark over the smaller obstacles though as he goes back over hurdles in the B & Cleaning Services Ken Boulton Memorial Handicap Hurdle. Idaho Fire went up 7lb for a three-and-three-quarter-length win at Worcester last time and this five-year-old could have a little bit more upside than some of his rivals in the Gary And Mavis Bird Family Raceday Handicap Hurdle.

SELECTIONS:

UTTOXETER: 2.12 Vietnorm, 2.42 Culligran, 3.12 Ice Jet, 3.42 Bagheera Ginge, 4.12 Idaho Fire, 4.42 Palamon, 5.12 Purple Owl, 5.42 October Hill.

PONTEFRACT: 2.30 Asset, 3.00 Naval Cop, 3.30 Bradbury, 4.00 HOLLOWAY BOY (NAP), 4.30 Percy's Daydream, 5.00 Bullington Bry, 5.30 Iris Dancer.

DOUBLE: Holloway Boy and Naval Cop.
