CRISTAL TO SPARK CARLISLE CELEBRATION

By Nick Robson, Press Association

Cristal D'Estruval can take the next step in his career in the pricedup.bet Novices' Hurdle at Carlisle on Sunday. Trained by Harry Derham, the four-year-old cost the princely sum of #400,000 after winning an Irish point-to-point in February. There is always plenty of pressure when one so expensive makes their debut for new connections but Derham and his owners had little to worry about at Warwick last month. It was a hot little race and Cristal D'Estruval was not even sent off favourite, that honour went to Alan King's Baron Noir based on the fact he had won a bumper at the Punchestown Festival, and there were also two other main contenders. But Derham's newcomer made sure there was no hiding place, dictating from the front and when the two main protagonists came clear, Cristal D'Estruval found plenty to win by three lengths. Baron Noir has since come out and won cosily to frank the form and it will be disappointing if Cristal D'Estruval fails to remain unbeaten. Whenever the Mullins family make the journey over it is worth noting and this time it is Tony and his son Danny who are represented by Letos in the Pertemps Qualifier. He took a little time to adapt to Irish racing having had a couple of races over fences in France. Mullins actually ran him over fences on his first run for him at Wexford when fourth but he has improved for the switch to hurdles, finishing second twice before winning last time out at Naas. That was a Listed event and Mullins was effusive in his praise of him afterwards, believing he has all the time in the world to reach the top over fences as he is still only five but the Pertemps Final in March was mentioned and he can qualify by winning this. Time may prove Stride On faced a very difficult task up against Nicky Richards' high-class prospect Upon Tweed last time out. There appears to be nothing of that ability in the Download The PricedUp App Maiden Hurdle and he can go one better. Winner of a Newcastle bumper in January, both Upon Tweed and the third, Gaelic Rover have franked the form since. One Big Bang did everything right on his chasing debut at Cheltenham but was the latest to be on the wrong end of a Sean Bowen masterclass on Wade Out. The eventual winner did not look to be enjoying himself at any stage and did not even consent to pick up the bit until turning into the straight. By then One Big Bang had got the better of a quality performer in Isaac Des Obeaux but Wade Out flew up the hill and ended up winning going away. It was still a highly encouraging first run over fences from the runner-up and while he faces a smart rival in Kamsinas, he should go one better in the Betwright Beat The Wright Way ``Chasing Excellence'' Beginners' Chase at Southwell. The Warren Greatrex yard is in excellent form, operating at close to a 50 per cent strike-rate over the last fortnight. He sends Liam Mera Kai for the Download The At The Races App Maiden Hurdle and he is probably the form pick. A bumper winner at Warwick, he has been placed over hurdles at both Huntingdon and Hereford and his turn is not far away.
