GYENYAME THE PICK FOR EXETER HONOURS

By Ashley Iveson, Press Association

Gyenyame can notch his second win at Exeter in the Racing Blogger, 'Christmas Cup' Handicap Chase. A winner on the Flat and over hurdles, Joe Tizzard's charge completed the set when making the most of what was a gilt-edged opportunity to open his account over fences at this track in November of last year. He has been placed on each of his five starts since, including when filling the runner-up spot behind Dan Skelton's Theonewedreamof on his return to Exeter early last month. That form looks sound, with the winner narrowly denied in her follow-up bid at Cheltenham last week, and while Gyenyame does not exactly look thrown in off a revised mark of 117, he has less to prove than many of his rivals. Hollygrove Cha Cha has a good opportunity to secure a first victory over fences in the PricedUp The Jumps 'Chasing Excellence' Mares' Novices' Chase. The dual bumper winner was successful in three of her five races over hurdles, including a valuable Grade Two triumph at Carlisle. She was handed a tough assignment on her chasing debut in the Colin Parker Memorial at Carlisle, but performed creditably considering her jumping was far from perfect to finish third behind the high-class pair of Resplendent Grey and Handstands. There is nothing of that calibre in this field and with a clear round Hollygrove Cha Cha should prove hard to beat. Only heavy ground horses need apply at Ffos Las and one who fits that particular bills is Esperti, who lines up for the Mickey Bowen Racing Handicap Chase. The David Rees-trained gelding is a regular visitor to the Welsh track and has won here twice, including on his most recent visit last month. He is up 4lb to a revised mark of 86 for that win, but he was rated in the 120s over hurdles a couple of years ago and the fact champion jockey Sean Bowen is on his back is clearly a huge positive. Fortunefavorsdbold is the pick in the Dinefwr Blankets Mares' Handicap Hurdle. The Christian Williams-trained seven-year-old has not managed to get her head in front since March of last year, but she has dropped significantly in the weights as a result. She reverts to hurdling for the first time in a while for her latest assignment and with Jamie Brace taking 5lb off her back, it will be disappointing if she is unable to make her presence felt. Southwell punters are advised to put their faith in Paradise Walk, who contests the Bet #10 Get #40 With BetMGM EBF Fillies' Novice Stakes. The Starman filly was beaten a nose on her Chelmsford debut by Godolphin runner Pierchic, who had the benefit of a previous run and has since gone close at Kempton to earn her a not inconsiderable opening mark of 87. On the strength of that form and with experience under her belt, Paradise Walk should go one better in the Midlands. Evening all-weather action comes from Chelmsford, where the best race on the card is the #40,000 Timeform Sprint Series Final' Handicap. There are plenty of familiar names on show in this six-furlong contest and preference is for the very much in-form Just call me pete, who is on a hat-trick for trainer Tony Carroll.
